

Dancing with Light: Objects in Mirror

Photographs by Joe Lipka

"I Call Shotgun!"

The beginning of high school road trips was a homage to the hardy soul on the right of the stagecoach driver. "Shotgun" was named for the weapon he carried to protect the stagecoach strong box under his seat. The Driver was in charge, guided the stage and made the critical decisions on the route, the speed and when to rest the horses. "Shotgun" was along for the ride.

As a modern day Shotgun, my job is to watch the countryside and let the driver guide our modern coach throughout the West. Sometimes the driver of the coach calls for a stop. I'm left in my seat, just wondering what is so wonderful. I look out the mirror and see objects much closer than they appear.

OBJECTS IN MIRROR ARE
CLOSER THAN THEY APPEAR

OBJECTS IN MIRROR ARE
CLOSER THAN THEY APPEAR

Colophon

Dancing with Light: Objects in Mirror

Photographs by Joe Lipka

The images in this portfolio were made in September, 2012 in Southern Utah

Myriad Pro font was used for the text.

© 2015 Joe Lipka Photography

Web site: www.joelipkaphoto.com

Blog: <http://blog.joelipkaphoto.com/>

The contents of this computer media are copyrighted materials Please note that this computer file has been provided as a consumer product for the private and non-commercial use of the purchaser only. Its' contents are copyrighted in its entirety and may not be duplicated by any means. Each article, portfolio and photographic image is copyrighted by the author and may not be duplicated for any purpose or by any means without his consent.